3COM CHIEF TECHNOLOGY OFFICER TO DELIVER KEYNOTE ADDRESS AT RSA SECURITY CONFERENCE

Keynote to Focus on New Approach to Building Intelligent Networks; Additional TippingPoint Security Experts to Discuss Trends in Phishing, VoIP Security and End Point Security

MARLBOROUGH, Mass. – Feb. 7, 2006 – 3Com today announced that its Chief Technology Officer Marc Willebeek-LeMair will provide a keynote speech at the 2006 RSA Conference. Willebeek-LeMair will present 3Com’s vision for a new network model that will automatically add intelligence, control, and security to the existing, traditional networks of today. His keynote will take place at 10:15 a.m. PST on February 16 at the McEnery Convention Center in San Jose, California.

As one of the industry’s leading security providers, experts from 3Com’s TippingPoint division were chosen by the RSA Conference selection committee to discuss trends on hot topics such as voice over IP security, phishing, and end point security. Speakers include:

- David Endler, director of security research at TippingPoint and chairman of the Voice over IP Security Alliance (VOIPSA), will speak about voice over IP security at 3:25 p.m. on February 14.
- Tod Beardsley, lead counter-fraud engineer at TippingPoint, will be a panelist in the implementers track, “Phishing: Defensive Strategies and Countermeasures.” The panel will take place at 2:00 p.m. on February 15.
- Jason Wright, product marketing manager at TippingPoint, will be a panelist in the perimeter defense session on “Securing the Endpoint: Deciding among Different Strategies.” The panel will take place on February 15 at 2:00 p.m.

A recorded Webcast of Willebeek-LeMair's keynote address will be available online at: <http://2006.rsaconference.com/us/conference/webcasts.aspx>.
